

Diode should have at least 100mA forward current capability, at least 10v reverse voltage handling, and the smallest forward voltage (V_f) possible to reduce drop between battery and circuit.

